ART STATEMENT

I love watching people and communicating with them. While communicating I watch them searching for themselves or building themselves constantly. Struggling with complexes, childhood traumas, environmental influences. They want to understand who they are and what they really want to become happy and whole.

I am also interested in self-knowledge and self-discovery under the influence of the socio-political and cultural family environments. I'm interested how context — place of birth, environment, family history — impacts the formation of a person. How does he or she live with this baggage? Do they feel pressure or, on the contrary, relaxed? Do they adapt, integrate into society or shape it around themselves?

I'm deeply involved into studying people relations, and how people influence each other. Sometimes creatively and sometimes destructively, but they always change each other.

In my works I try to catch and reflect people's different emotional states in more abstract forms, while it is not always important whether it is a man or a woman. So that everyone, looking at the result, could see their own reflection, as if it was a mirror. Or vice versa — so that one could think about something never thought before.
